

Dealing with the Coronavirus Outbreak

Stay Calm . . . But Be Prepared

Essential to achieving the goal of living independently is the ability to remain safe and healthy.

Over the next several weeks ILO's Community Builders will be mentoring self-advocates about staying healthy during the current Coronavirus outbreak and emergency planning and safety at home.

The Coronavirus Staying Healthy

"In a crisis, committing to building healthy habits becomes even more important."

Arianna Huffington, Thrive Global Founder & CEO

Prevention is the name of the game! This includes not only washing our hands, exercise, and good nutrition, but also sleep, staying hydrated, and focusing on being positive to reduce stress and anxiety.

But, if you should get sick, know that you are not alone. There are always other people to help you: your family, your ILO Community Builder, friends, and if you can't find someone to help you, or if you need immediate help, you can always call 911.

SOCIAL DISTANCING:

What does it mean?

Social distancing is the practice of reducing close contact between people to slow the spread of infections or diseases. Social distancing measures include limiting large groups of people coming together, closing buildings and cancelling events.

I Have Symptoms – What Should I Do?

The symptoms that are currently being seen with the Coronavirus include: fever and respiratory symptoms such as cough and shortness of breath.

Stay home from work, school, and out of public places (restaurants, stores or events) until you are free of fever and any other symptoms for at least 24 hours without the use of fever-reducing or other symptom-altering medications.

Seek medical attention if you have a fever or a if you believe you have been exposed to Coronavirus or any flu.

CALL your doctor or healthcare provider before visiting a healthcare facility.

Calling 911

1. Try to remain calm.
2. Know your location.
3. Be aware of your surroundings.
4. Don't hang up.
5. Let the 911 dispatcher guide the conversation.
6. Be patient.
7. Follow all directions.

Asking Others for Help

How?

- Be direct - say, "Can you help me?"
- Be specific about what you need.
- Ask questions if you don't understand.
- Show respect - be willing to listen.

Always . . . say, "Thank you"

Why?

- Sometimes asking for help is the fastest and best way to figure things out.
- And . . . most people like to help and want to help.
